

Hands to War: Fighting, Weapons, and Self-Defense for Christian Families

Hands to War is a self-defense book for Christian families. The book clarifies misconceptions some Christians might have regarding their right/obligation to defend themselves, and their duty to protect their families. The book teaches Martial Arts, Boxing, Fencing, and Close Quarters Combat in order to produce a well rounded fighter capable of adapting to any situation. After learning the basics of the different fighting styles, the reader is taught how to easily master weapons such as the Knife, Sword, Sai, Nunchaka, and Tonfa by building upon the skills they have already learned. The use of handguns in home defense is also covered. An entire chapter is dedicated to the Use of Force and the Inherent Right of Self-Defense. This book provides information on becoming a hard-target against terrorists and criminals. It teaches Christian self-defense principles combined with real world self-defense skills that the author has taught to Americas war-fighters in a combat zone and internationally.
