

Groovy Girl

One would think that ones junior year in high school ought to be fun and light-hearted, but its anything but as Mona, Mindy, Gustave, and Esau, navigate their way through play auditions and the big event . . . the senior class elections. Being a senior class president is terribly prestigious and guarantees the senior class president will preside over all future high school reunions. Oh, big deal, right? But when Gustave, flushed with the success of his first stage performance, decides to run against Stacy Musgrove, who believes that the presidency is hers, then he finds it takes more than just a good performance to win an election . . . it takes a good performance and a surprise appearance of the Gustavettes!
