

Windows to the East

In twelve beautifully crafted essays, this book opens a window to the intriguing world of Eastern Orthodoxy. Readers will encounter the complex patterns that underlie Orthodox Christian spirituality. They will read about Eastern Christian history and about the Orthodox understanding of Communion, the nature of prayer, and of Mary the Mother of God.

This volume is the result of a dialogue in charity between participants of several churches, including Ukrainian Catholic, Greek Orthodox and Roman Catholic. Each of the twelve learned but accessibly-written essays presents both sides of the east-west dialogue between Christianity's two streams. Ecumenical and mutually tolerant, these various perspectives are in agreement that the Christian faith is fundamentally a religion of giftedness. Contributors include Daniel Sahas, Fr. Robert Barringer, Frances Collie, Hourie Elaine Hanna, Bishop Seraphim, Bishop Nicholas, Father Thomas Hopko, Father Andriy Chirovsky, Father Theodore Stylianopoulos, Father Anthony Ugolnik, as well as the editors Jaroslav Skira and Fr. Myroslaw Tataryn.
