

Marriage Gaps Series[Vol. 1]: Bridging The Divide

Eleanor Roosevelt said: In the long run, we shape our lives, and we shape ourselves; the process continues until we die, and the choices we make are ultimately our own responsibility. We made choices to get to where we are in life. The choices of yesterday are the realities of today. When it comes to marriage, the choice you make in deciding who to marry will determine the outcome of your married life. These choices are a function of our training and association. The eventual life we live out creates a divide between the expected and the actual. This difference is what makes up The Marriage Gaps Series.
